

Greetings!

Late December feels like a bit of a milestone this year. Winter is officially upon us, the days will gradually become longer, people in our communities are beginning to get vaccinated, and we are looking towards a 2021 that bodes to be brighter than 2020.

With your help, we have made good progress on the Chin's Lebanon home renovation project. We approved a new family for homeownership, launched a lead abatement grants program in Claremont, and grew our board and various committees.

While we discontinued indoor work with volunteers due to increasing COVID concerns last month, we've been fortunate for the help of some very hardy and committed volunteers who continued to help outdoors!

Soon, the cold weather will force us to stop working outside altogether.

You Can Still Help!

We look forward to your help when we can resume volunteer opportunities together indoors. In the meantime, there other meaningful and significant ways you can help:

- Share your special skill with us.
 - Do you have a passion or skill that you would like to share? (For example, fundraising, plumbing, real estate, and HR or legal expertise)
- Register to volunteer in the future.
- Let us know if you would like to become a regular volunteer.
- Let us know if you would like to become safety-trained to help lead other volunteers, or to volunteer on your own schedule.
- Help spread the word about our projects, programs & volunteer opportunities.
- Donate money.
 - As a non-profit, we rely on donations and grants to support our projects and programs. Every bit counts.

Please donate if you can.
We appreciate any amount!

Seeking Volunteer Project Manager

Along these lines, we are currently looking for a Project Manager to help manage the construction process for the new home in Lebanon we will break ground on in Spring 2021.

But, we aren't looking for just any Project Manager: we are seeking a volunteer for this role.

I know, it's a big ask.

However, Habitat affiliates keep the cost of their homes lower for their partner families by increasing the amount of volunteer labor, materials and services and by reducing the amount of paid labor.

This Project Manager will save the partner family thousands of dollars by volunteering to ensure that their home is built efficiently, on schedule, on budget, and to the highest standards. It is an incredibly critical position.

Do you know a retired contractor or builder who may want to donate their time and talents to a good cause? Maybe someone who loves planning out construction projects and wants to work with a group of volunteers towards a shared set of goals? We encourage you to get creative with this one!

Thank you for helping spread the word to find the right person for this role!

Thank You!

So many people have come together to make this year a success for our partner families.

We truly could not have accomplished so much without the dedication and diligence of the remarkable people who serve on our Board of Directors, committees, build site and other sites, our construction volunteers and lunch providers, the faculty, staff and students who partner with us, our small and mighty staff, and our friends and colleagues at NEK Habitat and around the state.

Thank you also to the local businesses, foundations, individual donors, agencies, organizations and churches for sending money and human resources our way. Thank you to the vendors, suppliers and service providers who provide top-notch materials and services, often at a discount (or free).

Thank you to everyone who lent a hand in some way in 2020 - we will be very blessed to have your help and to see you again in 2021.

Warmest wishes for a healthy & happy holiday season & thank you again,

Eva Loomis, Executive Director

P.S. — Thank you for your support - any amount is appreciated!
